

Echoes International Seminar

Portalegre

The international seminar "Echoes of the Past – Heritage Futures: Vocational Education and Training and Post-Industrial Landscapes" was held in Portalegre, in the Robinson Space (old Robinson Cork Factory), on 29th of June 2017.

This event marked the culmination of two years of a project that developed an OER with educational resources whose aim is to enhance the use of industrial heritage and post-industrial landscapes as an important education resource and facilitate the implementation of diverse educational practices in those heritages sites.

The first part of the seminar program included oral presentations from different post-industrial landscapes and industrial heritage, educational professionals and heritage professionals. In the second part of the seminar, participants were guided through practical sessions in site, making use of the tools and some of the educational resources produced during the project.

The seminar ended with a world cafe session where the participants were challenged to answer the major questions raised during the day. This helped the different target groups (heritage professionals and trainers) to exchange points of view and to establish contacts for future collaborations.
